MILKINGREDIENTS.CA UPDATE

Certainly most of you have had the chance to visit the CDC's MILKINGREDIENTS.CA Web site by now. Launched on July 31, 2001, it is a Web site designed to increase the awareness and utilization of Canadian dairy ingredients while strengthening business relationships. It provides valuable information and access to support services related to the utilization of Canadian dairy ingredients in further processing.

Information on MILKINGREDIENTS.CA is continuously updated. The "What's New" section on the home page lists when new information has been added and provides a direct link to that information. It's a great way to keep track of changes and additions. So visit www.milkingredients.ca often!

SPECIAL MILK CLASS PERMIT PROGRAM
(SMCPP)

As mentioned to you back in the November issue, the CDC recently concluded a thorough review of the administration of the SMCPP. Based on that review, it was deemed necessary to up-date the SMCPP Agreement that governs the activities of Program participants. A new Agreement has been prepared for the Further Processors and will be forwarded to them for signature in the next few weeks. A covering letter with additional information will also accompany the new Agreement.
